Lorissa, a mid-thirties professional recently promoted to a higher-paying remote job, is looking to reassess her financial situation with goals of homeownership, travel, debt repayment, and retirement planning. While she has some savings and modest debt, she lacks a structured budget, has fragmented retirement accounts, and is hesitant about investing due to family influence. She seeks guidance on budgeting, managing student loans, balancing retirement and investment priorities, and determining whether additional insurance or financial planning support is right for her.

Chapter events are exempt from this procedure.

- Official Hotel Requirement: To be eligible to compete, competitors must stay within the official FBLA housing block.
- State Entry Limits: Each state may submit up to four entries per event.

 - One individual or team event, and
 - One chapter event (e.g., Community Service Project or Local Chapter Annual Business Report).

- Participation Requirement: To be eligible for an award, each competitor must complete all components of the event at the National Leadership Conference.
- Team Composition: All members of a team must be from the same local chapter.
- Identification at Check-in: Competitors must present valid photo identification (physical or digital) that matches the name on their conference name badge. Acceptable forms include a driver's license, passport, state-issued ID, or school ID.
- Late Arrivals: Competitors will be allowed to compete until such time that the results are finalized, or participation would impact the fairness and integrity of the event, as determined by Competitive Events staff. If judges have left the competitive event area, it is no longer possible to compete. Five penalty points will be assessed for late arrivals in any competitive event.

Financial Planning

2025–2026 Topic & Details

Overview

You focus on providing clients with comprehensive financial planning from a fiduciary standpoint. Lorissa was referred to your firm by a current client who praised your ability to consider all available information and provide individuals with a number of options so that they may best meet their goals.

Use all the information provided to assist Lorissa in answering her financial questions, reaching her financial goals and improving her financial health.

Introduction

Lorissa has been in mid-level management for twelve years. She's worked in three different states and had roles in three different companies. She graduated from college with $20,000 in credit card debt and $30,000 in student loan debt. She worked throughout her twenties to pay off the credit card debt and part of her student loan debt. Her grandparents passed away and she received $50,000 in inheritance. At her job, Lorissa was thrilled to learn that she received a promotion, and her salary would increase to $85,000. She realizes that, since she's in her mid-thirties and with a new job and a new salary, she needs to re-evaluate her financial situation.

With her new job, there are several things that Lorissa is considering. She is working from home and currently lives in a one-bedroom apartment with $1,300 monthly rent. She lives in Louisville, Kentucky and just visited her sister in the new, hip area of town. Lorissa would love to buy a 2-bedroom loft in a newly converted warehouse within walking distance of her sister. The units are listed for sale for $400,000, with a monthly HOA of $150. Interest rates are 7.1% for a 30-year fixed rate mortgage. Her apartment lease will be up in six months.

Lorissa is currently single, with no children, although she hopes to be married one day. She loves to meet up with friends for dinner out and is passionate about travel. She travels for vacation at least twice a year, with a goal of international travel every other year. She has two credit cards that she uses regularly and pays them off at the end of every month. Lorissa is not a huge fan of budgeting but knows that this is probably important to start thinking about for her financial health long term.

Lorissa's financial goals include continuing traveling at least twice a year, paying off her student loans and focusing on being prepared to retire by the age of 65.

Expenses

Because Lorissa knows budgeting is important, she decided to take the first step in writing down all her expenses from a recent month:

Dinner	$ 115.62	Groceries	$ 233.00
Coffee	$ 9.06	Hotel	$ 577.23

Investments

Lorissa has no investments, although she's always been interested in what that might look like for her. She's not quite sure if she's interested in paying a financial planner for their services in assisting her with investments. She is nervous about investing her money; growing up, her parents would always say that the stock market was just another casino.

Retirement

Lorissa has retirement accounts from several employers:

- With her Ohio employers a tax-deferred 401(k) plan, where she worked from 2011 to 2014: $6,700.72 in contributions and a market value of $6,810.12
- Her employer in Indiana, a post-tax Roth 401(k), where she worked from 2015 to 2019: $16,076.40 in contributions and a current market value of $27,950.

2025–2026 Competitive Events Guidelines

Financial Planning

- Her current Kentucky employer, for 4 years of service: $18,162.99 in tax-deferred contributions, and $3,894.34 in investment growth.

Lorissa knows retirement should have been a focus in her twenties, but she was busy paying off her credit card debts and paying down her student loans. Now that she is in her mid-thirties, she realizes she needs to make up for lost time, but she's not sure what to do with so many different retirement accounts.

Insurance Coverage

Lorissa is currently healthy and does have medical, dental and vision insurance. She does not have life insurance, and it is not an option through her current job. She hasn't decided if life insurance would be something that she should be spending her money on at this moment. She needs advice on the benefits or disadvantages of purchasing life or any additional insurance.

Lorissa has several financial questions:

- Budgeting: How important is budgeting/looking at her expenses? How can budgeting help her long term goals?
- Debt Management: What strategies should she use to pay off her student loans?
- Investments vs Retirement: Should she focus on one over the other? Is it possible to focus on both?

Overall, what would you advise Lorissa to do to meet her goals? What recommendations or alternatives would you suggest to Lorissa? What other professionals, if any, should Lorissa consult and why?
